To You . . .

For being a real friend to the students of Chapel Hill High School and for your many hours of extra work with us, aside from your regular teaching duties, we dedicate the 1961 Hilllife to you, Mr. John D. Ellington.

Mr. John Ellington graduated from Albemarle High School, North Carolina in 1954. His annual lists these activities: annual staff, Student Council, Red Cross Council.

In 1958 he graduated from the University of North Carolina with an A. B. degree.

ADMINIS

Thanks to you, our superintendent, principal, and teachers, for all that you have done for us. You have given us a solid background for college and our future occupations. You have always been willing to listen to our problems and to help us solve them. We, the seniors, will always remember the leaders and friends we found in you.

In Memoriam

ANN LEWIS McCURDY

(June 2, 1943 -- March 16, 1958)

An excellent student, Ann was with us until her sophomore year. Her interests were many: reading, nature study, travel, and music. We miss Ann, but she will always be a part of Chapel Hill High School through the Ann McCurdy Memorial Book Fund.

Class History

We hit CHHS in the fall of 1957 like a swarm of bees; eager, questing, anxious to find out what high school was.

In a few weeks, the initial impact of high school wore off, and in spite of the ribbing we got from those Almighty Upperclassmen, we felt that we were already standard fixtures at Chapel Hill High.

Bill Aycock led us through this first wonderful yet excruciating year, and Linda Lackey started her long Honor Council career, being elected freshman justice.

And lest we forget, Luther was the janitor . . .

Leaving David Copperfield behind, we jumped into the sophomore year, feeling fully adequate to put on the title of "wise fools."

The new cafeteria was completed at mid-terms, and we enjoyed our last days of being able to leave the school grounds at lunch.

Vance Barron led us through these times of brilliant idiocy. We took second place in stunt night with a highly ad-libbed version of "Billy's Butter Biscuit Hour." And we sneaked peeks at "Stairway to the Stars," swearing to do better next year on our Junior-Senior. With a bit of money in the till, and promise of more to come from junior magazine sales, we were chafing at the bit to get started.

But the next year held a few surprise monkey wrenches for us. At the beginning of the year, the school board outlawed soliciting funds off school grounds; all money we made had to come from on the CHHS lot. Magazine sales were stopped, and we looked "up the creek" for any possibilities of a Junior-Senior. But "The Class That Everything Happened To" came back fighting, and we instituted something which started a tradition: junior bake sales at snack shack. Stunt Night's winner was our "Sheik of Araby" old-time movie, and Junior Follies was a new name added to school functions. "The Importance of Being Ernest" played to a full house, and it was an artistic as well as financial success. And it all led up to what was, of course, CHHS's best Junior-Senior "Southern Mansions."

AFSer from Spain, Charo Garcigoy, lived with Jinx this year; our own AFSer was Vance Barron, who spent the summer in Germany. Then a first for the class: Anne Herbert was the first CHHSer to go abroad under the AFS program during the school year. She went to Italy in the fall and stayed for a semester.

The basketball team this year copped the district championship, and went to the state finals, but was defeated.

We fought through this year with "Footey" as our president and with Becky Ranson as social chairman, without whom it never could have been done.

At last, that magic status "SENIOR." The word tasted good when you said it, bringing visions of diplomas, rings, and graduation night. We had Mickey Steininger, our petite jeune fillie from France as AFSer.

Rings came, and proud seniors flashed them about at any opportunity. Our big shiny pictures came, too, making us all look much more distinguished than we were -- in other words, just the thing for college applications.

Coach Culton pulled out one of the best football seasons during the fall of 1960; we defeated Roxboro for the first time ever, and in the last game of the season, we topped Henderson for the first time since 1928.

Then, in June, we graduated. What more can you say? An era was over; twelve years of public education were over, and some of our lives' most pleasant memories were held in the latter four at CHHS. We left Chapel Hill High School in 1961, and went our separate ways.

But always the sight of that big brick building on Franklin Street will mean something, and in future years the words "CHHS class of '61" will always conjure up fond memories.

The Student Council is the nerve center of our various activities and organizations. The Council publishes The Key in the early fall for the benefit of the incoming Sophomores and the new students. In December they publish the Dial, which gives the names and addresses of all students in high school.

In addition to being the voice of the students, the Council operates the Snack Shack and the School Store. This year the Council has subsidized various school organizations in an effort to put them in a better operating position. The Council has had three main projects during the year: Orientation Week in early September, Homecoming in October, and finally, in the spring, Stunt Night to entertain the students and provide the Council with its annual money raising project.

For the past seven years Chapel Hill High School has been enriched by American Field Service Exchange students. Through these young people we have learned much about life outside our rather limited sphere. Contact and conversation with our exchange students has broadened our horizons. We have also sent some of our students abroad; and this year, for the first time, we were privileged to have a student abroad during the first semester. Through this plan we have gained a human understanding which will serve us in years to come.

COUNCIL

"To establish the highest standards of honor in the school" is the chief purpose of the Honor Council as stated in the constitution. This year, under the leadership of Linda Lackey, the Honor Council has tried to evaluate the role of the honor system in school life and to encourage student interest in its functions. The council, in addition to its judiciary duties, endeavors to build up pride in the school and the student government, and to develop a sense of self-discipline and responsibility among the students.

The Proconian has the important task of recording life at Chapel Hill High School. A great deal of work and effort goes into each issue. Because of this enthusiasm, the Proconian is a paper of which we are justly proud.

The Proconian staff operates on a two week cycle. During the first week articles are assigned and written, and page diagrams are sketched. Then all copy goes to the Orange Print Shop. During the following week, after the "galleys" come back, everyone works at correcting them. The articles are cut out and the page dummies are pasted up. The dummies are then sent to the print shop. Finally, on Friday the Proconian comes off the press. The work of the staff, however, continues. The paper must be distributed to all students and to the advisors. In addition, the list of articles for the next issue must be drawn up.

"Learn to do by doing"

The FFA members strive to improve farming methods and practices by application of what they have learned. Each boy gains practical experience outside of school. In addition, during school, he learns how to better his farming. By these means, the boys will be practical and qualified farmers.

The members of the FFA have won many prizes in exhibitions and contests.

"Y'all Yell!"

This years cheerleading squad provided the school teams with the spirit and enthusiasm needed for winning. The cheerleaders spend much of their time cheering at all games and pep rallies - generally promoting good school spirit. The head cheerleader is chosen by the student body in the spring of each year. Eight other cheerleaders and two alternates are selected by a group of judges at the close of the school year. These girls, who represent your school, work hard and are happy in having been selected to serve.

FOOTBALL

Assistant Coach Perry; Co-captains Stapleton, Prillaman; Coach Culton.

The Chapel Hill Wildcats won six and lost three of nine games during the 1960 football season and placed second in District III standings. The first game of the season was dropped to Southern of Durham by the score of 14 to 7. Southern of Alamance edged the Wildcats by one point. The last loss, a heartbreaker, was to Hillsboro. The Wildcats defeated Northern to move up to second place, and finished the season by defeating Henderson for the first time.

Four outstanding players made the District III All-Conference Team. They were Co-captains Terry Stapleton and Don Prillaman, Truman Hilton, and George Cannefax. Skip Snyder received honorable mention.

The 1961 Team lacked experience since the starting five of the 1960 District III Championship Team had graduated. They got off to a slow start, but as the season progressed, they proved to be a unified team.

The Sophomore Team, in its second year, proved its ability as did the 1960 Sophomore Championship Team.

The '60-'61 Kittens basketball team was the finest in many years. The squad had a nucleus of experienced Seniors, whose play was characterized by determination, skill, and hustle. A great deal of the success of the team was due to the coaching of Mrs. Anne Simpson. The squad was led by the Co-Captains, Dawn Culton and Cheryl Harville. Under their leadership, the Kittens became the most feared sextet in the league.

L. to R. - Landis, Sturdivant, Steininger, Schlatter, Kemmer, Timmons, Sparrow, Andrews, Dobson.

As a contrast to last year's soggy Homecoming show, the 1960 presentation was perfect in every way. With the band playing "A Pretty Girl Is Like A Melody" the 9 girls marched across the field after riding in the three shiny convertibles.

Later in the gym, the three surprised girls were introduced during the dance.
